

At Philip, we want to attract and retain the best employees. Our clients should experience a high degree of professionalism, quality and commitment, and requirements to all employees are therefore high. Therefore, development of professional and personal competences are important to us.

We are focused on developing our firm. The size of our firm makes it possible for everyone to contribute with new ways of servicing our clients.

We are organized into a wide range of practice areas which allows for specialization, while keeping the general skills in focus. Depending on your level of competence you can expect a high degree of autonomy and accountability in your everyday work.

We are constantly looking for dedicated and competent employees. Therefore do not hesitate to submit your application by email to hr@philip.dk.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss your opportunities with us, please contact our business manager, Jesper-Max Larsen, email jml@philip.dk
