

Development, protection, disputes, agreements and general advice

Philip has significant experience advising businesses and organisations on intellectual property right issues, handling IPR disputes and protecting IPRs. We act as advisers to the film and music industry, publishing companies, museums, artists and other right holders, including design and technology companies.

We provide advice concerning all kind of IPRs, including trade marks, copyrights, designs, patents and domain names. We advise in relation to the drafting and negotiation of license and other IPR agreements, registration and maintenance of rights and in infringement cases.

We advise on all IT law aspects, including development and license agreements, purchase of IT systems, E-trade and law and telecommunications. We provide advice to a large number of Danish and international hardware and software producers, consultancy firms, Internet service providers, telecom operators and other businesses concerning IT agreements and other aspects of IT law.
